FIRST ACT

"Mimi was a charming girl specially apt to appeal to Rudolph, the poet and dreamer. Aged twenty-two, she was slight and graceful. Her face reminded one of some sketch of a highborn beauty; its features had marvellous refinement. The hot, impetuous blood of youth coursed through her veins, giving a rosy hue to her clear complexion that had the white velvety bloom of the camelia. This frail beauty allured Rudolph. But what wholly served to enchant him were Mimi's tiny hands, that, despite her household duties, she contrived to keep whiter even than those of the Goddess of Ease."

"...Mimì era una graziosa ragazza che doveva particolarmente simpatizzare e combinare cogli ideali plastici e poetici di Rodolfo. Ventidue anni; piccola; delicata... Il suo volto pareva un abbozzo di figura aristocratica; i suoi lineamenti erano d'una finezza mirabile...

«Il sangue della gioventù correva caldo e vivace nelle sue vene e coloriva di tinte rosee la sua pelle trasparente dal candore vellutato della camelia...

IN THE ATTIC

Spacious window from which one sees an expanse of snow-clad roofs, on left a fireplace. A table, a small cupboard, a little book-case, four chairs, a picture easel, a bed; a few books, many packs of cards, two candlesticks. Door in the middle; another on left.

(Curtain rises quickly. Rudolph and Marcel. Rudolph looks pensively out of the window, Marcel works at his painting "The Passage of the Red Sea" with hands nipped with cold, and warms them by blowing on them from time to time, often changing position, on account of the frost.)

End of Act. I.

SECOND ACT

"... Gustave Colline, the great philosopher; Marcel, the great painter; Rudolph, the great poet; and Schaunard, the great musician - as they were wont to style themselves - regularly frequented the Cafè Momus where, being inseparable, they were nicknamed the four musketeers.

Indeed they always went about two together, played together, dined together, often without paying the bill, yet always with a beautiful harmony worthy of the Conservatoire Orchestra."

Mademoiselle Musetta was a pretty girl of twenty...

Very coquettish; rather ambitious; but without any pretentions to spelling.

Oh, those delightful suppers in the Quartier Latin!

A perpetual alternative between a blue brougham and an omnibus; between the Rue Breda and the Quartier Latin.

Well, what of that? From time to time I feel the need of breathing the atmosphere of such a life as this. My madcap existence is like a song; each of my love-episodes forms a verse of it; but Marcel is its refrain.

«... Gustavo Colline, il grande filosofo; Marcello, il grande pittore; Rodolfo, il grande poeta; e Schaunard, il grande musicista - come essi si chiamavano a vicenda - frequentavano regolarmente il Caffè Momus dove erano soprannominati: I quattro Moschettieri: perchè indivisibili.

«Essi giungevano infatti e giuocavano e se ne andavano sempre insieme e spesso senza pagare il conto e sempre con un «accordo» degno dell'orchestra del Conservatorio.»

«Madamigella Musetta era una bella ragazza di venti anni...

«Molta civetteria, un pochino di ambizione e nessuna ortografia...

«Delizia delle cene del Quartiere Latino...

«Una perpetua alternativa di brougham bleu e di omnibus, di via Breda e di Quartiere Latino.

«- O che volete? - Di tanto in tanto ho bisogno di respirare l'aria di questa vita. La mia folle esistenza è come una canzone; ciascuno de' miei amori è una strofa, - ma Marcello ne è il ritornello. -»

SECOND ACT

IN THE LATIN QUARTER

A conflux of streets; where they meet, a square flanked by shops of all sorts; on one side, the Café Momus.

CHRISTMAS EVE

A vast, motley crowd; soldiers, serving-maids; boys, girls, children, students, work girls, gendarmes etc. etc. Outside their shops vendors are bawling, inviting purchasers. Aloof from the crowd, Rudolph and Mimi walk up and down; Colline is near a rag shop. Schaunard stands outside a tinker's buying a pipe and a horn. Marcel is being hustled hither and thither. Sundry townsfolk are seated at a table outside the Café Momus. It is evening. The shops are decked with tiny lamps; a huge lantern lights up the entrance to the Café.

End of Act. II.

THIRD ACT

"Mimi's voice seemed to go through Rudolph's heart like a death knell."

"His love for her was a jealous, fantastic, weird, hysterical love."

"Scores of times they were on the point of separating."

"It must be admitted that their existence was a veritable hell-upon-earth."

"And yet amid all their tempestuous strife they mutually agreed to pause for the refreshment and solace afforded by a night of love; but the dawn merely brought with it some unlooked-for battle which served to drive Love, terrorstruck, away."

"Thus (if life it was) did they live; a few happy days alternating with many wretched ones while perpetually awaiting a divorce."

"Either as a congenital defect or as a natural instinct, Musetta possessed a positive genius for elegance."

"Even in her cradle this strange creature must surely have asked for a mirror."

"Intelligent, shrewd, and above all hostile to anything that she considered tyranny, she had but one rule, caprice."

"In truth the only man that she really loved was Marcel; perhaps because he alone could make her suffer. Yet extravagance was for her one of the conditions of well being."

«La voce di Mimì aveva una sonorità che penetrava nel cuore di Rodolfo come i rintocchi di un'agonia...

«Egli però aveva per lei un amore geloso, fantastico, bizzarro, isterico...

«Venti volte furono sul punto di dividersi.

«Convien confessare che la loro esistenza era un vero inferno.

«Nondimeno, in mezzo alle tempeste delle loro liti, di comune accordo si soffermavano a riprender lena nella fresca oasi di una notte d'amore... ma all'alba del domani una improvvisa battaglia faceva fuggire spaventato l'amore.

«Così - se fu vita - vissero giorni lieti alternati a molti pessimi nella continua attesa del divorzio.

«Musetta, per originaria malattia di famiglia e per materiale istinto, possedeva il genio dell'eleganza.

«Questa curiosa creatura dovette appena nata domandare uno specchio.

«Intelligente ed arguta, ribelle soprattutto a quanto sapesse di tirannia, non aveva che una regola: il capriccio.

«Certo il solo uomo da lei veramente amato era Marcello - forse perchè egli solo sapeva farla soffrire - ma il lusso era per lei una condizione di salute.»

THE BARRIÈRE D'ENFER

Beyond the toll-gate, the outer boulevard is formed in the background by the Orleans high-road, half hidden by tall houses and the misty gloom of February.

To the left is a tavern with a small open space in front of the toll-gate. To the right is the Boulevard d'Enfer; to the left that of St Jacques.

On the right also there is the entrance to the Rue d'Enfer leading to the Quartier Latin.

Over the tavern, as its sign-board, hangs Marcel's picture "The Passage of the Red Sea," while underneath in large letters is the inscription "At the Port of Marseilles." On either side of the door are frescoes of a Turk and a Zouave with a huge laurel wreath round his fez.

From the ground-floor windows of the tavern facing the toll-gate, light gleams.

The plane-trees, grey and gaunt, which flank the toll-gate square lead diagonally towards the two boulevards. Between each tree is a marble bench. It is towards the close of February; snow covers all.

As the curtain rises the scene is merged in the dim light of early dawn.

In front of a brazier are seated, in a group, snoring custom-house officers. From the tavern at intervals one may hear laughter, shouts, and the clink of glasses. A customhouse official comes out of the tavern with wine. The toll-gate is closed.

FOURTH ACT

«..... At that period, indeed for some time past, the friends had lived lonely lives. »

«Musetta had once more become a sort of semi-official personage; for three or four months Marcel had never met her.»

«And Mimi too; no word of her had Rudolph ever heard, except he talk-ed about her to himself when he was alone.»

«One day, as Marcel furtively kissed a bunch of ribbons that Musetta had left behind, he saw Rudolph hiding away a bonnet, that same pink bonnet which Mimi had forgotten.»

«'Good!' muttered Marcel, 'he's as craven-hearted as I'»

.....

«A gay life, yet a terrible one!»

«..... In quell'epoca già da tempo gli amici erano vedovi.

«Un dì che Marcello di nascosto baciava un nastro dimenticato da Musetta, vide Rodolfo che nascondeva una cuffietta - la cuffietta rosa - dimenticata da Mimì:

«–Va bene, mormorò Marcello, egli è vile come me!

.....
